

How to Have a Successful Business Meal Meeting Experience

Master the social side of business by experiencing all the elements necessary for a successful business meal. This includes everything from ordering from the menu to managing awkward moments (or mishaps) and engaging in table conversation.

Whether you are the host or guest, this seminar focuses on every aspect of dining, from coffee cafes and business (or interview) meals to celebration dinners. Experience the learning with a tutorial meal that allows you to experience every facet of dining decorum and protocols.

The information was insightful, and your enthusiastic delivery was appreciated. You are extremely professional and very knowledgeable in your craft! You made an impact on our students and provided skills that we will be able to apply to our everyday life.

—Kawana Williams, Florida State University College of Business

A sampling of student responses:

- “I feel as if I am better prepared to take on an interview meal. The event was amazing, and everyone needs to experience a lesson like the one given!”
- “One of the best things I have done in college. Very well put together. The etiquette dinner was excellent and far beyond my expectations.”
- “I am really glad that I attended this event since it showed me the importance of making the right impression in situations where anxiety might get in my way.”
